

To whom it may concern

We employed Kerry during our 2 week holiday in September 2012, for our two boys, George and Nicky, aged 3 and nearly 2 yrs.

One of the first things I noticed about Kerry was how gentle she was with our children.

Her approach was clearly considered and I got the impression that she spent time planning activities that she knew they would enjoy. For example, doing puzzles, playground activities and making up various games.

As well as being good with children she is very competent and capable. As a result, I felt that I trusted her and was able to have a relaxing holiday myself.

Over the 2 week period she managed to build a very good rapport with our boys and also with us.

I highly recommend her and would definitely use her again.
