To whom it may concern,

Kerry Jenkins has been working as nanny for our children since September 2013.

Her duties have included picking them up from school, organising their supper and supervising their homework. Our children are ages 10 and 13.

Kerry has been a very reliable carer. She is always punctual and she provides a good balance to our children of both kindness and discipline.

I would recommend her to any parent looking for an experienced nanny.

Yours sincerely,

Ailse MacFarlane
