At work life experience (babysit):

For me babysitting is a hobby, I really like spending time with children, playing with them, teaching them anything they ask me for and having a good time. For me is fun.

- I worked with two 1 year old twins for three days, taking care and spending the day with them.
- I worked with a 19-month baby, one of my first times working with a baby. It was a good experience, and I could learn a lot, as I spent the day with him, feeding him, changing him and make him sleep.
- I worked for a 17-month baby, which was more likely to the one I mentioned before.

I have worked many times with children, and, I have taught lessons of mathematics and language to children, most of them study at the school that I studied years ago, as I was recommended by many teachers.
